

Testimonial for Steve Robertson – Junction16 Media

As a Driver Risk Management Consultant, an important part of what I do is the provision driver training via e-Learning.

It is important that I create content that is engaging, educational and uses a variety of media, especially video.

A key component of safe and fuel-efficient driving is to adopt what we call 'slow to flow', and roundabouts is one of the best places to use this technique. So, to demonstrate this in action, I needed an overhead view of my approaching and dealing with a roundabout, in came Steve Robertson from Junction 16 Media with his DJI Mavic drone.

After a quick discussion with Steve, he sent me a proposal which met my needs and took care of all the safety and permissions required to launch a drone above a roundabout in Stone.

The weather was good on the day and with super efficiency, Steve got into position and via two-way radio, I was able to listen to Steve's instructions, and in a very short time, we had everything we set out to capture.

Having now got hold of the footage, I am super impressed, not only with the quality and quick turn-around, but the different perspective areal photography will bring to my course.

If you want a different view of the world, especially a birds-eye view, I highly recommend Steve Robertson.
